

Financial Training for Lawyers

A Bootcamp to Help Lawyers Understand the World of Bankers

Summary

We have developed several modules to help lawyers better understand what their corporate clients and the investment bankers are doing when working on M&A deals or financing transactions. The content has been designed to review the financial levers that drive transactions so lawyers can be better advisers and add more value to their clients.

These topics can be combined in any fashion to provide a coherent and thorough program covering the financial tools and analysis used by investment banking and corporate clients.

Prerequisites

None.
